Notes/ideas	Each of the directories under the main faculty and staff directory just sorts the faculty contacts further by position. This makes specific people very easy to find and meets the findable vs discoverable goal quite well. You can scroll the main page and find everyone, or narrow it down and find someone in particular as well.

Notes/ideas	The content on this page is quite good. The structure of the content with different headings and not-too-lengthy explanations are good to have and highlight the goals of the engineering faculty quite well. However, the content written on the page is an exact copy of what is in the PDF provided. scrap all writing on the page and just give the PDF.

Notes/ideas	Information is relevant and up to date. Information is relevant for students, parents and stakeholders. In this case stakeholders would include potential employers looking to hire co-op students. Information is organized clearly with bolded headers. Has a link to the co-op home page, also has quick links to admission and registration and student information and resources pages.

Notes/ideas	There is duplicate links to events such as iron ring ceremony. This could be remedied by including a link to the events page instead of listing individual events. The parents and families link no longer exists and redirects to another page on the uregina website. This page talks about the “many resources available for students” without including links to any resources or additional information. This could be remedied by providing a link to a list of resources for students.
